That's life! Something odd's going on

I'm worried about Jack...

1. JELENET

Anne: Alice, what are you going to do today?

Alice: I don't know... Why?

Anne: I'm going to do some shopping for this evening... Would you like to come along? I'd like to make dinner for Jack's aunt. I also want to invite Sharon and Peter.

Alice: My lesson is at three. I don't know what time I'll finish.

Anne: Don't worry. I'm going to do some work before that. I don't think I'll finish before five... So, what do you say?

Alice: Okay... But only if you loan me your red hat!

Anne: Okay, I'll lend you the hat. But be careful, if you lose it, I'll get very angry!

(Belép Carolina néni.)

Aunt Carolina: Good morning, everyone.

Anne: Oh, good morning, Mrs Andreini.

Aunt Carolina: What are you talking about?

Anne: We're deciding what we are going to do today. How are you going to spend your day?

Aunt Carolina: I think I'll go for a walk in the city centre, maybe do a little shopping... (kinéz az ablakon.) Oh, I think it's going to rain. Just look at those clouds!

(Jack lép be sietve.)

Jack: Hi, guys! Hi, auntie!

Aunt Carolina: Morning.

Jack: I'm on my way out...

Aunt Carolina: Jack! Aren't you going to have breakfast?

Jack: Oh, I can't, auntie. I'm meeting a Japanese client... If I get there late, my boss will have a fit...

Aunt Carolina: You can't go on an empty stomach!

Jack: Oh, don't worry, I'll have something to eat at lunch.

Anne: Oh, wait Jack, I'll come with you! (Alice-hoz fordul.) So, we'll see each other at five. Don't forget!

(Jack és Anne kimennek.)

Aunt Carolina: I'm worried about Jack... He's so thin, maybe he isn't eating enough?

Alice: Oh... He won't starve if he misses breakfast!

Aunt Carolina: He seems so run down and so distracted... He's always thinking about something else.

Alice: Maybe he's in love... (csöngetnek). Excuse me a moment, I'll get that.

2. JELENET

Alice visszamegy a konyhába Sharon-nal együtt Carolina nénihez.

Alice: Sharon, this is Jack's aunt Carolina.

Sharon (kezet nyújt): It's a pleasure to meet you, I'm Sharon Evans. I live next door.

Aunt Carolina: Another woman! And very pretty, I might add! Let me guess... You're Jack's friend, too... Who knows why my nephew prefers female friends!

Alice: Excuse me, I have to go... Sharon, why don't you stay? You can get to know each other better! (kimegy)

Aunt Carolina: Sharon, I'm a little worried about Jack. He's so distracted these days... Maybe there's something you know I don't?

Sharon: Me? I don't know anything! Really!

Aunt Carolina: It's strange... I know his work is going very well. Maybe there's a woman in the picture?

Sharon: Listen, I'm very sorry... As I told you I don't know anything about it. Now I really must get going...

Aunt Carolina: Okay, okay... What's the matter Sharon? You look a little upset.

Sharon: I'm fine, just, just a little tired, that's all!

Aunt Carolina: Listen, Sharon, you seem like such a nice girl... May I ask you a favour?

Sharon: Certainly, go right ahead.

Aunt Carolina: You know that I'm going to leave in a few days... When I leave, will you take care of Jack? It would make me feel so much better!

Sharon: Oh, well... I don't know... I don't know if I can do that...

Aunt Carolina: And why not?

Sharon: I'm not really the right person... And I'm also engaged to Peter... We live together!

Aunt Carolina: Engaged? That's strange...

Sharon: Why do you say that?

Aunt Carolina: Because love is joyful, my girl! And you seem... Well, you seem so... unhappy!

That's life! Off to Japan

Going to Japan is making you much more fun!

1. JELENET

Este van és Anne egyedül van otthon. Megérkezik Peter, aki szemmel láthatólag nagyon izgatott.

Peter: Hello Anne! You're very beautiful this evening! Come on... Would you like a nice, big kiss?

Anne: But Peter, are you crazy?! What's the special occasion?

Peter: I'm so happy. I'm elated!

Anne: But you're never like this! What's happened?

Peter: Do you remember that famous director who was at my performance?

Anne: What did he look like?

Peter: You know, that tall, well-dressed man, about fifty years old. He looked like Clark Gable.

Anne: Oh, yes, now I remember...

Peter: Well, he said he wanted to direct a musical in Japan.

Anne: Yes, and... But so what?

Peter: And he said he wanted me to do an audition.

Anne: Yes... I can't stand the suspense... What about him?

Peter: Well... Today I auditioned... And listen to this, Annel! He wants me to go with him to Japan!

Anne: Oh, congratulations, Peter! That's fantastic. I'm so happy for you! Now tell me everything... What was the audition like?

Peter: I was very nervous... At first he asked me to sing, and then he asked me to act like a snob... You know, they're putting on My Fair Lady and they are looking for an actor to play the Professor of Pronunciation. Remember, this professor transforms a simple flower girl into a high society star.

Anne: Oh, wow! A leading role! You are perfect for the part! You like wearing fancy scarves... You enjoy using a superior tone of voice... Are you going to move to Japan?

Peter: Of course! I'm so excited about the idea of living there. I wonder what it will be like?!

Anne: What does Sharon think about all this?

Peter: Well, she doesn't know yet... You know, she's so moody... I need to find the right words... Anyway... All I can think about now is celebrating! Do you wanna go dancing?!

Anne: But you hate dancing, Peter!

Peter: I know. But I wanna be crazy tonight! Put on your best dress... I want you to look like Sophia Lorent! (Peter homlokon csókolja Anne-t.)

(Megérkezik Alice és meglátja a csókot.)

Alice: Hey, what's happening here? You're kissing each other!

Peter: Alice, now hold on... I'm leaving for Japan!

Alice: For Japan? What are you going to do in Japan?

Peter: I'm gonna act in a great musical... My Fair Lady!

Alice: That's amazing! And when are you going to leave?

Peter: I don't really know yet. I think we're gonna leave in two or three weeks at the most.

Alice: And what does Sharon think about this?

Peter: Sharon, Sharon! All you wanna know about is Sharon... I imagine she'll be very pleased to come with me... At any rate, it's time to party! We're going dancing, would you like to join us?

Alice: Dancing?! Why aren't you always like this? Going to Japan is making you much more fun!

2. JELENET

Anne és Alice készülődnek, nagyon elegánsak. Megérkezik Jack.

Jack: Hi, everybody! Wow! I'm really pleased to see everyone dressing up like this for me!

Anne: Ha! Ha! You'd like to be the centre of attention, wouldn't you?

Jack: Well... Of course! Anne, that colour really suits you! And Alice, made up like that you look much... older. What's happening, anyway? Why are you all so elegant? Did I forget something?

Alice: No, Jack! We're going out to celebrate with Peter. He is going to play a role in a musical... And he's moving to Japan!

Jack: To Japan?! What does Sharon think about all this?

Anne: She doesn't know... Anyway, according to Peter, she'll be ecstatic about the idea of moving to Japan...

Jack: Moving to Japan?! What does Sharon have to do with Peter's musical anyway?!

Alice: Well, you know how it is, Jack... When two people are together, they make changes together... And, anyway, why do you care if Peter and Sharon move to Japan?

Jack: I don't care... But I really don't think that Sharon is going to be happy about moving to Japan.

Anne: That's what you think...

Jack: Well... Of course I could be wrong...

Alice: In any case, it's useless to make guesses... Hey Jack, do you want to come with us?

Jack: Not really. Tell Peter I'm sorry, but I don't really feel like celebrating tonight...

Anne: Well... You don't know what you're missing...

Alice: Sayonara, Jack!

That's life! Life's confusing

This is such a surprise!

1. JELENET

Sharon telefonál. Peter idegesen járkal a szobában arra várva, hogy Sharon befejezze a telefonálást.

Sharon (telefonba): Yes, sure. Okay, four o'clock is fine. I'll see you later, bye. (Leteszi a telefont.)

Peter: Who were you speaking to, Sharon?

Sharon: To the museum I sent my CV to. I'm gonna have an interview this afternoon.

Peter: Oh, great! But I really don't understand why you are in such a rush to find a job!

Sharon: You know very well I don't enjoy being a tour guide... Now, let's get back to us... Where were you last night? You didn't get home until three in the morning!

Peter: I was out with Anne and Alice... Listen Sharon, I have to tell you something very important.

Sharon: What's the matter, Peter? Is something wrong?

Peter: Well, not really wrong, but... Yesterday... Remember when I was waiting for you outside the gym? You saw that director, didn't you?

Sharon: The one who wants to put on a musical in Japan?

Peter: Yes, that's the one. Well... He asked me to audition...

Sharon: And...?

Peter: Well, we had a meeting... And the audition went very well! It's a shame you weren't there. I was fantastic! Let me tell you what happened. Firstly, when I arrived they were rehearsing the first scene of My Fair Lady: a girl was selling flowers on the street, people were passing by without noticing her, two men were watching the scene laughing all the while. Then I sat down because I didn't wanna interrupt anything! After that, all of a sudden, the director noticed me... He called out to me and asked me to play one of the roles. And here comes the best part. Finally, while I was singing, he interrupted me and he shouted: "Great, my boy, the part is yours!". Can you believe it Sharon? I got the leading part!

Sharon: I'm really happy for you, Peter!

Peter: You should be happy for both of us!

Sharon: Why is that?

Peter: Because we are gonna leave for Japan! In two or three weeks at the most... You'll come with me, won't you, Sharon?

Sharon: Japan? But... But... How? This is such a surprise. I... I don't know Peter. I certainly wasn't expecting this.

Peter: What's the problem? A change will do us both good! What's keeping you here? You don't seem happy with your work...

Sharon: That's true... I wanted a change... But I certainly wasn't expecting this. This is so sudden... I'm completely confused!

Jack: Hi, Anne... What's that smell? What are you cooking?

Anne: I'm cooking roast beef.

Jack: Wow! I'm starving... You know, my sweet Anne, I was thinking about you today, about how you take care of Alice and me... You are fantastic! It's something I've been wanting to tell you for a long time.

Anne: Come on Jack! Stop it! Stop making fun of me!

Jack: But it's true Anne! What's the matter? Why are you so nervous today?

Anne: I know everything Jack... I know all about you and Sharon!

Jack: And... What is it exactly that you know?

Anne: That you had a relationship many years ago and that... Maybe... You are still in love with her.

Jack: And how did you find this out?

Anne: I was tidying up in the living room the night of Peter's performance when I saw your jacket. I was taking it to your room when something fell out... It was a photo... A very meaningful photo... You were kissing her! So I spoke to Sharon...

Jack: And what did she say?

Anne: She told me everything! Tell me the truth Jack... Are you still in love with her?

Jack: Well... I have to admit that seeing her makes me feel...

Anne: But... What about me, Jack? I thought... I thought there was something special between us!

Jack: And there is, Anne! I care very much about you, but...

Anne: But?

Jack: Well... I thought we were just friends!

Anne: Oh... Okay, Jack... I understand now!

Jack: Wait, Anne... I didn't mean to hurt your feelings...

Anne: But it doesn't matter Jack! Just remember: Sharon is going to Japan!

Travel: Capsule hotels

Lucy: Good morning. Welcome to this week's edition of "The Travel Programme" and welcome to Christine Oteng, our travel expert!

Christine: Good morning, Lucy.

Lucy: Well, Christine statistics from the International Tourist Office show that Japan is the "in" destination at the moment for holidays.

Christine: That doesn't surprise me. Japan's a fascinating country!

Lucy: Yes, I'm sure it is but tourists do worry about high prices in Japan.

Christine: It's true, Japan can be expensive but there are ways to save money, visitors can save on accommodation for example.

Lucy: What do you have in mind?

Christine: Well, I'm thinking of capsule hotels. There are lots of them in Tokyo and in other Japanese cities.

Lucy: What on earth is a capsule hotel?

Christine: It's a low budget hotel. It doesn't have bedrooms, instead it has "capsules"! You sleep in a capsule, this is a plastic box two metres long, one metre wide and one metre high.

Lucy: Incredible! It sounds like a coffin!

Christine: Yes, but they're more comfortable than a coffin! There's everything you need: a bed, a control panel for the light and heating, or air-conditioning, a small TV near your feet, a radio and an alarm clock.

Lucy: Don't tell me, there's a shower too!

Christine: Yes, there is a shower, but not in the capsule though! You share showers and toilet facilities with other guests.

Lucy: And how much does it cost?

Christine: About 25 euros a night. Capsule hotels are really for office workers who miss their trains home at night, but tourists can sleep there too.

Lucy: Amazing and only 25 euros! Do you think that an idea like that could work in Europe?

Christine: Absolutely! In fact there's at least one capsule hotel already in London.

Lucy: Does it have capsules too?

Christine: No, it doesn't. There are traditional rooms, but they're very small, they're about 7 square metres. Many of them don't have a window and there isn't a wardrobe, just two coat hangers! You need to pay extra to watch TV and to have your room cleaned. But there is a double bed, and an en-suite bathroom with a shower, toilet and washbasin.

Lucy: And how much does it cost in London?

Christine: A room costs about 40 euros a night, but if there's a lot of demand the room can cost more. You see, the hotel uses the concept of low cost flights, and the earlier you book the cheaper it is.

Lucy: So... if you book at the last minute you pay more.

Christine: That's it!

Lucy: Well, there are some interesting travel ideas there. If you're looking for a cheap place to stay in central London, you could try a capsule hotel. But remember to book early! On the other hand, if you're visiting Tokyo, why not spend a night in one of those capsules? It'll certainly be an unusual experience and you'll save some money too. Thanks Christine!

Christine: It's a pleasure, goodbye.

Lucy: And goodbye to all our travellers! See you next week.

Cinema: Bollywood

Lucy: Good morning and welcome to this week's edition of "Talk Cinema". And welcome to Sanjeev Gupta, our cinema expert.

Sanjeev: Hi Lucy and hello everyone.

Lucy: Well Sanjeev, what are we talking about today?

Sanjeev: Bollywood.

Lucy: I'm sure you're a real expert Sanjeev, and a fan!

Sanjeev: Absolutely, I adore Bollywood films, you know my brother's a director in Mumbai.

Lucy: Interesting. First of all let's explain to our viewers what Bollywood is.

Sanjeev: Of course. Bollywood's the name given to the Indian film industry, it comes from Bombay and Hollywood, Bollywood. Bombay's the centre of the Indian film industry. Bombay's now called Mumbai, but the name Bollywood is still used.

Lucy: As you seem to be such an expert, I can ask you lots of questions.

Sanjeev: Fire away.

Lucy: How many films are made in Bollywood each year?

Sanjeev: About 800! The same as the number of films that are made in Hollywood.

Lucy: Wow! Film making's really big business in India!

Sanjeev: That's right! Did you know that 14 million people in India go to the cinema every day?

Lucy: 14 million every day, I don't believe it! That's a huge number of people!

Sanjeev: That's right, there are lots of people in India remember, but even so, it's a large number of cinema-goers.

Lucy: It certainly is! But tell us, is it true that Bollywood's now becoming more known internationally?

Sanjeev: Yes it is! Many people from India now live overseas especially in the UK and the USA. Today in the UK Bollywood films are screened in normal cinemas and are also broadcast on TV. The films are becoming popular with new audiences. Also you know, Hollywood's beginning to copy Bollywood, the film "Moulin Rouge", for example, used lots of ideas that are common in Bollywood films.

Lucy: I see but what's so special about Bollywood films?

Sanjeev: The films are full of colour with beautiful traditional Indian costumes and lots of Indian music and dancing. But there's one thing I don't like, the story lines are nearly always the same, love stories, I mean.

Lucy: I see. What about the actors? Does Bollywood have its own film stars?

Sanjeev: It certainly does! They're very famous and very rich, just like Hollywood stars.

Lucy: Well, stars are the same everywhere! But tell us Sanjeev, are there any problems facing Bollywood?

Sanjeev: Unfortunately there are! Illegal copying is the biggest problem facing the Bollywood Studios. They lose lots of money because of piracy. Another problem is that young audiences are becoming bored with the traditional love story formula. Today the studios have to create new story lines. A typical new film is the one that is set in a call centre in Mumbai and follows the lives of six young Indians working there. Did you know Lucy that many young Indian graduates now work in call centres? They answer calls in English from customers in the US and the UK.

Lucy: Yes, I have heard of the new call centres in India. So the film mirrors real life. It sounds fascinating! Well, Bollywood's booming and is becoming more known internationally. The stories are rather similar, love stories, but some new interesting story lines are creeping in. Right Sanjeev?

Sanjeev: Right!

Lucy: Thanks Sanjeev and goodbye.

Sanjeev: Goodbye.

Lucy: See you again next week for another edition of "Talk Cinema"!
