INTRODUCTION

About the Vocabulary

The 600 words in each book of this series, along with the additional target words in the appendices found in the first three books of the series, include the most useful words in English. The books are based on the carefully researched BNC/COCA word frequency lists, which can be found on Paul Nation's website. Because of the way that they were chosen, these words have the following characteristics:

1. They are useful in both spoken and written English. No matter what English course a learner is studying, the words in these books will be of value.
2. Each word in these books is a high-frequency word or mid-frequency word. This means that the effort invested in learning the words will not be wasted. Learners will have many chances to encounter or use them in their studies.
3. As a whole, these books cover a large proportion of the words in any spoken or written text. They cover at least 80% of the words in newspapers and academic texts, and at least 90% of the words in novels. They also cover at least 90% of the words in conversation.

About the Books

The activities in these books are specially designed to make use of important learning conditions. The words are introduced using sentence definitions and an example sentence. The activities that follow in the units encourage learners to recall the meanings and forms of the words. Some activities also make the learners think about the meaning of the words in the context of a sentence—a sentence which differs from the sentences that occurred in the introduction of the words. Moreover, each unit ends with a story containing the target words. While reading the story, the learners have a chance to recall the meanings of the words and adapt them to the context of the story. Such activities help learners develop a better understanding of a common meaning for a given word that fits the different uses.

Images for each target word help learners visualize the word as it is used in the example sentence. These word-image associations help students grasp the meaning of the word as well as recall the word later.

Book 1 assumes that the learner knows around 400 words of English and focuses on the remaining words in the first 1000, plus some from the second 1000.

Book 4 focuses primarily on the words in Averil Coxhead's well-known Academic Word List. This list of 570 words is particularly useful for learners of English as a foreign language who need to read academic texts in English at secondary school or university level, and who need to speak, write, and listen to lectures on academic topics in English.

Although many words have more than one grammatical form, this series focuses on the word's most common form. This is mentioned to remind learners that, just because a word is labeled and used as a noun in this series, does not mean that it can never be used in another form. This series has simply focused on the word in the form in which it is most likely to be used.

To ensure that a wide range of learners in any given class can find useful words to learn in each unit, the inclusion of words does not strictly adhere to each 1000-word level. However, there is a progression from the first 1000 words to the fourth 1000 words through the books in the series. Table 1 shows the levels of the books.

Table 1: The books in the 4000 ESSENTIAL ENGLISH WORDS series, frequency levels, and CEFR levels

4000 Level books	Major word level in the books	CEFR level
Book 1	1000	A2
Book 2	1000-2000	A2
Book 3	2000-3000	B1
Book 4	AWL	B2
Book 5	3000-4000	B2
Book 6	4000	C1

Supporting Learning with Other Activities

A well-balanced language course provides four major opportunities for learning: learning through input, learning through output, deliberate learning, and fluency development. The highly structured activities in these books support all four types of learning opportunities. Learning can further be supported through the following activities:

1. Have students create vocabulary cards with one word from the unit on one side of the card and the translation of the word in the student's first language on the other side. Students should use the cards for study in free moments during the day. Over several weeks, students will find that quick repeated studying for brief periods of time is more effective than studying for hours at one sitting.
2. Assign graded readers at appropriate levels. Reading such books provides both enjoyment as well as meaning-focused input, which will improve student recall of the words.
3. Practice reading fluency to promote faster recall of word meaning for both sight recognition and usage. Compass Publishing's Reading for Speed and Fluency is an invaluable resource for reading fluency material.
4. Include listening, speaking, and writing activities in classes. Reinforcement of the high-frequency vocabulary presented in this series is important across all four language skills.

This is a true story. It happened long ago in Greece.

"We must fight," the Spartan* chief told his small army of brave men. They were at a great disadvantage. There were only three hundred of them. The Persian military had hundreds of thousands of men.

They were going to lose unless they could secure a small entrance. The enemy couldn't move through it easily. They intended to stop the enemy there. The chief and his men got ready for the battle.

Soon, long lines of the enemy's army twisted around the hills. The chief met the enemy with laughter. He knew that his men's weapons and skills were better. The Spartans trusted their leader and obeyed him.

First, the enemy soldiers shot arrows from their bows. The chief told his men to lift their shields*. The arrows stuck into the shields but did not hurt any of the men.

Then, the enemy's soldiers attacked the Spartans with long spears. The chief surprised them. His men sent logs down the hills at the enemy.

They fought for three days. Although they hardly slept at all, the chief and his men remained steady.

But the enemy found a way to beat the Spartans. The chief and all of his men were killed. Even though they lost, the Battle of Thermopylae is one of the most famous battles in history.

Ways to Reduce Stress

Everyone experiences stress. Stress is a normal part of life, but too much stress can create health problems. People who are stressed can suffer from headaches, depression, and even heart problems. Whether you are busy studying or working, you need to make sure you have time to relax.

One of the best ways to relax and reduce stress is to meditate. First, find a quiet place and sit up straight. Then, close your eyes, clear your mind, and pay attention to your breathing. This practice will make you feel relaxed and happier. It will also help you sleep better at night. Studies show that sleep is very important because that is when your body repairs itself. In addition, being tired can make your stress worse.

Another way to relax is to listen to music. Music is a very powerful tool. Listening to slow and quiet music can relax your mind. Listening to fast, lively music can make you feel happy, which will then help you relax and reduce your stress. Some people find that singing along to songs helps take their minds off whatever is giving them stress.

If your stress is worrying you, it is best to meet with a friend and talk it out. When you discuss your feelings and problems with someone, you will automatically feel better. At times when you don't feel like talking, you can write instead. Many people find it helpful to keep a journal and record their feelings.

Remember that stress is a part of life and that you cannot completely get rid of it. That being said, you need to reduce stress as much as you can. Make time for yourself and try the above suggestions in order to feel relaxed and stay happy and healthy.

The Cat and the Fox

One day, a cat climbed a mountain. When he reached the peak, he met a fox. They began talking about how to get away from their enemies.

"I am very smart. I have the potential to think of billions of ideas. For instance, I can carve a tiny hole in a tree and then climb in," the fox said. He added, "I have a lot of friends. If I am in trouble, I can call them to lend their help. I can escape a whole army if I have to!"

Then, the fox asked, "What are your plans?" The cat said, "I have only one plan. Climb a tree." The fox said, "I hope you have good fortune, then! However, one plan does not seem to be adequate. Do you want me to be your tutor? I can help you develop many new plans." The cat said, "I guarantee that my plan works every time. We can quit talking about it."

Soon, they saw a group of wolves. It was clearly an emergency and the time to put plans into action. The cat quickly followed her plan. She ran up a tree. The fox was so full of intense anxiety that he could not decide which plan to use. "What should my initial move be? Should I consult my friends?" All he could do was spin in a circle. The wolves caught the fox. The cat was full of pride. This is proof that having one good plan is better than having many bad plans.

The Lucky Knife

Last year, I had a unique chance to work with my uncle, who has devoted his life to studying past generations. I was part of a crew of students he had hired. We signed a contract to work with him. He was the boss. We lived far from the nearest town, and we dined on what we could find. Some of the things we ate had an unusual flavor.

We had been there about a month and still hadn't found anything. One day, I began to dig in the soil. The layers of soil got wetter. Soon, I was digging in the mud. My shovel began to get very heavy. It felt like it had doubled in weight because the ground had absorbed such a lot of water.

Finally, I saw something in the mud. It was an old knife! The handle felt smooth in my hand. I lifted it up so I could see it better. There was writing on it.

It says "it will bring good luck," my uncle said with a smile.

The next day, we found many more things. There were pots and tools. My uncle donated all of the things to a special committee of a charitable foundation. Many newspapers wrote stories about it. It seemed the knife really did bring good luck!

Adams County's Gold

Adams Academy was a good school. Boys lived there and took classes. Tom worked hard all week. On a spring Saturday, he wanted to do something fun.

He asked his friend Jeff to go to the movie theater. "Sorry," Jeff answered. "I'm going to a concert."

So Tom asked Joe to go to the movies. But Joe's soccer team had a game.

Next, Tom went down the hall to Brad's room. Brad was reading a very large old book. "Hi, Brad," Tom said. "Are you reading a dictionary? It looks ancient."

"No. This is called *The Wealth of Adams County. It's about hidden gold in Adams County. It's more than a century old. It was published in 1870! Look, it even has the original cover on it."

Tom asked, "Where did you get it?"

"It's from my dad's friend. He is a nice gentleman, an officer in the army," answered Brad.

"The gold doesn't really exist, does it?" Tom asked.

"I don't know, but maybe! There are clues in this book. Let's find it!" Looking for gold sounded like fun.

The first clue was to find a flat tree underground. "It must be in the forest," Tom said.

Brad said, "The flat tree could be a board under the dirt. It could cover the gold."

Tom and Brad dug in the dirt all morning. The process of looking for gold made them hungry. They were ready to stop for lunch. But then Brad hit something hard. It was a board!

Brad pounded on the board until it broke. There was a small hole under it. "Look!" He held up a gold coin.

Tom saw a piece of paper in the hole. "Brad, there's more. It's a map to the rest of the gold!" Brad smiled. "Let's go!" And they hurried to find the wealth of Adams County.

Henry Ford's Famous Car

My name is Henry Ford, and I invented a car called the Model T. I used to watch carriages on the streets. They were very interesting. Then, I got a job as a junior mechanic. My father criticized me. He wanted me to run the farm.

When I shifted to Detroit, I worked for the Detroit Auto Company. But I wanted to make cars using less labor. That way, there would be fewer expenses. I started the Ford Motor Company in 1903. At first, the company did not do well. But many people were betting on my success. I also had a sincere aim to make a car that anybody could buy.

Then, in 1908, I introduced the Model T. It confirmed that I was right: it was possible to build a car my way!

The Model T differed from other vehicles. Each worker would attach a different part to the car. This made their job easy to learn and saved a lot of time. One Model T could be put together in 93 minutes. All of them had the same classic design. They were all the same size and height. The prime reason for doing this was to save money. We had a formal ceremony to celebrate our success when the millionth car was made in our factory.

Over 19 years, I sold more than 15 million Model Ts. This sent a signal to other companies. People would buy cars to commute to work if the price was low enough.

Strange and Unusual Jobs

Strange and unusual jobs are usually not popular. However, they pay well and may be a good option for people who want to do something fun and exciting for work. Here are a few strange and unusual jobs.

A tea sampler is a person who drinks tea. Tea samplers have very good tongues. They must know all the different types of teas from around the world. It can take years to train for this job. This is not an office job, as tea samplers travel around the world throughout the year.

Another unusual but well-paying job is a professional line stander. For this job, a person stands in line for another person. Professional line standers are usually very busy during big sales such as Black Friday or the day a new smartphone comes out. During these sales, line standers can earn quite a lot of money. For example, one professional line stander waited in line for an iPhone 5 for 100 hours and earned $1,500.

Pet food companies hire pet food tasters to test the taste and quality of their products. Pet food tasters normally taste dog food or cat food. After tasting the food, they usually spit it out. They need to know which products sell the best, so they read and write many reports about pet food quality.

Another unusual job is a golf ball diver. Golf ball divers are responsible for collecting golf balls that people have hit into ponds. This job is not as easy as it sounds. The divers wear wetsuits to dive to the bottom of a pond, which is usually very dirty and dark. This job can also be dangerous, because sometimes there are snakes in the ponds. There have also been cases of divers being bitten by alligators.

If you're looking for a job out of the ordinary, figure out what your interest is and consider a strange or unusual job. You may have to wait for one, but it will be worth it!

Albert Einstein

My name is Albert Einstein. Many people know about the great things I've accomplished. But I had many barriers to get through before I became famous.

I was born in Germany. When I was in elementary school, I already knew about math and statistics. When I was a boy, I pretended to be a great scientist. I loved school, but my life at home was hard. My father lost his job, so my family lived in poverty. We could not pay the rent in Germany. We became immigrants and went to Italy. I finished high school and went to college in Switzerland.

After college, I began writing about science. I did not reach success in an instant, though. At first, other scientists did not approve of my work. They thought I was a failure. Rising to the rank of an admired scientist was a gradual process. Soon, people started to notice that I was right. At last, I began to get some recognition.

I showed how to find the approximate size of very big things, like stars. I also detected and explained the motion of very small things, like atoms. And for fun, I made a machine that could refrigerate food by inserting heat. I never retired. I felt it was my duty to keep working.

The image shows a close-up of a piece of paper with handwritten mathematical equations. The most prominent equation is $E = mc^2$, written in large, bold, black ink. Above it, there are smaller equations: $\frac{1}{4\pi} c^2 10$ and $\frac{m_1 m_2}{r^2}$. The paper is slightly crumpled and has some other faint markings.

From the Earth to the Stars

Jeremy was from a family of miners. Like them, he worked underground during the day. His job was to find raw minerals and jewels. Each night after work, he lay awake in an open field. With his telescope, he looked at the stars. He was amazed by the scale of space. He wished someday he might travel there.

One day, there was an accident in the mine. Water poured into the mine. Everything was dark. Jeremy stretched out and grabbed a piece of wood. It kept him from sinking. For a long time, he floated in silence. Then, he heard voices. The other miners were coming to rescue him.

This accident made Jeremy think about his job and his life. The next day, he skipped work and made a very important decision. He had the courage to follow his decision. He decided to become an astronaut. For the next two years, Jeremy studied and trained hard. He completed his training, and one day, he was given permission to participate in a journey to space. His wish had been granted.

His spaceship left the ground. It went higher until there was no more gravity. Part of his job was to send out a satellite that would then float away from the spaceship. Now, instead of just looking at the stars, Jeremy could look at the Earth as well.

The Farm Festival

Once there was a farm. Many animals lived there. One day, they had a contest in the yard. They were going to race from the barn to the farmer's garage. The barn and the garage were far apart. It would be a long race. The winner qualified to win a bag full of apples as an award.

But the race did not start well. The cart with all the apples was not stable, and the animals had to repair it. Then, the pup knocked over the apples. The pig said, "We are going to slip! We must clean up this mess." The pup felt bad, and she began to cry. The dog gave her a tissue to dry her tears.

Then, the race resumed. But the duck tried to rob them and take all the apples. The cat said, "I will have you arrested!" The duck said, "You can't convict me! You can't prove I took them." The race stopped yet again.

The animals tried to race one more time. Then, they heard an alarm coming from the barn. There was a fire! They got buckets of water to put out the fire. A journalist came to write a story about the festival and the race. The horse told her, "I am a special breed of horse. I would have won the race easily." The pig said, "It was somewhat hard to have the race. But we had fun. That is what's important!"

48 Hours in Hong Kong

Forty-eight hours in Hong Kong may sound like a short visit, but it will surprise you how much you can see and do. The best way to get the most out of your trip is to plan in advance.

Hong Kong has a great public transportation system that is easy to use. The system is called the MTR, which includes the metro, trains, and buses. You can get a card called the Octopus Card at a metro station and use it to travel around. Taxis are another way to get around Hong Kong. Not only are there many taxis everywhere, but they are also quite cheap compared to taxis in other large cities.

On the first day of your trip, go up Victoria Peak. At the top of the mountain, you will see beautiful city views. Then have “dim sum” for lunch. Dim sum consists of many different dishes. It is a great way to taste a little bit of everything. In the afternoon, take the Star Ferry from Hong Kong Island and cruise across Victoria Harbor to Kowloon. There are many markets in this area. Temple Market and Ladies Market are very popular. At 8:00 pm, join the crowd that is watching the Symphony of Lights, which is a fifteen-minute light show around Hong Kong’s tall buildings.

On the second day of your trip, spend your time shopping at one of Hong Kong’s many malls, such as IFC or Times Square. You can also shop at smaller stores in Soho and Sheung Wan as well. Unlike the markets, the prices are set, so you cannot change them. After shopping, try an order of roast goose, which is similar to roast duck. Roast goose is a special dish in Hong Kong. If you want to experience Hong Kong’s nightlife, head to Lan Kwai Fong. If not, go back to your hotel for a good night’s rest.

With careful planning, you can do a lot in just two days in Hong Kong.

How Comet Got His Tail

A solitary rock roamed through the cold gloom of space. It slowly moved through space with a feeling of sadness. In the large and beautiful galaxy, it was only a tiny rock. It felt like an as small as an atom.

On its journeys, it encountered many amazing objects. It flew by beautiful moons that were covered with dust.

"Why can't I be as beautiful as them?" it thought. The rock passed a large planet. The sphere was hundreds of times larger than the breadth of the small rock.

"Why can't I be as large as that?" it wondered.

The rock was filled with despair. It was surrounded by beauty and greatness, yet it was just a small and ugly fragment of rock.

One day, it approached the area of a bright star.

"What's wrong?" the star asked. "Oh, I wish I had a higher status in the galaxy. All the other objects are so beautiful and large," the rock replied. "But I'm just an ugly rock."

The star considered the problem. At last, it said, "You don't have to worry anymore. I think I can help." The star radiated its light brighter and hotter than it had ever done before. "Come a little closer," the star said to the rock.

The rock drifted closer to the star. Suddenly, the ice that was in the rock's tiny holes melted and became gas. Then, the gas came out behind the comet to form a brilliant tail. The tail shone with all the colors of the spectrum.

The little rock had become a beautiful comet. It looked so amazing. It realized that the star helped it change its appearance. "Thank you," the comet said and then flew away with its new beautiful tail following behind it like a giant cape.

The Two Captains

Once, there were two ships. Both ships carried cotton. The captains were very different. Thomas was strict. He made his crew engage in difficult tasks, and he kept firm control of his ship and men. His ship's deck was always clean and working well and he sailed carefully to use less fuel. His ship was very plain, but he never had a problem with it.

The second captain, William, was not so serious. He had a grand ship, and he loved having fun. When they stopped at islands, his crew amused themselves by going surfing or diving on the reef. They gave more time to these things than to taking care of the ship.

One day, Thomas saw a hurricane ahead. He knew that his ship needed to turn around. But he was sure William did not see the storm. He adjusted the dials on the radio and called his friend to tell him how to avoid the danger zone. But William's radio was not working, so it was not possible to contact him. When William's ship got to the hurricane, the wind blew it into the reef.

William tried to shut the door, but the ship had already crashed into the coral, and there was a lot of damage. William's crew then accused him of being a bad captain. The loss of the ship taught William a lesson, and he then really understood the value of keeping equipment working well.

The Kitten and the Caterpillar

Katie the kitten liked to play. One day, Cory the caterpillar emerged from a hole in the wall while Katie was playing in the living room.

"Hey!" Katie said. "Do you want to play with me?"

Cory was reluctant. He said, "I'd rather not play with you. I have several handicaps. My body is very delicate. Your claws are as sharp as hooks. You might cut me. Plus, I have no bones, not even a spine. You could easily hurt me."

"I swear that I won't hurt you," Katie said.

"No, I don't want to," he said again. He hopped from the wall, but Katie pursued him.

Cory ran into the kitchen and into the cupboard, but Katie ran right behind. Katie knocked appliances to the floor. Plates fell into the sink and broke in the basin.

Then, Cory ran into a bedroom. Some laundry was on the floor. Cory hid under a shirt, but Katie saw him. She jumped on the shirt. Her paws left stains on it, and her claws tore the sleeves into strips.

However, Cory escaped. He used a small hole in the floor to hide. But Katie saw him.

"Now you are caught!" said Katie.

Cory tried to avoid Katie's claws. He moved his body as far into the hole as possible. He didn't know how he'd get out of the hole.

Just then, Katie's owner came home. She saw that the house was a mess. She took a broom and swung it at Katie. She chased Katie out of the house.

Cory was safe, and Katie was left outside because she didn't listen to the wishes of others.

SECOND EDITION

4000 ESSENTIAL ENGLISH WORDS

2

4000 words to help you master work, school, and everyday life!

مرجع زبان ایرانیان

4000 Essential English Words is a six-book series that is designed to focus on practical high-frequency words to enhance the vocabulary of learners from high beginner to advanced levels. The series presents a variety of words that cover a large percentage of the words that can be found in many spoken or written texts. Thus, after mastering these target words, learners will be able to fully understand vocabulary items when they encounter them in written and spoken form.

Each unit presents twenty words which are defined and used in sample sentences. The activities in the books are designed to present the words in different uses so that learners can fully see how they can be utilized. Also, at the end of each unit, there is a story which contains the unit's target words to give learners further examples of the words in use. Each level properly prepares the learner for the next, progressively challenging the learner with more sophisticated vocabulary and stories.

Features

- ◆ Clear, easy-to-understand definitions and examples for all target words
- ◆ Various activities to reinforce target vocabulary
- ◆ Progressive development of vocabulary across levels
- ◆ Reading passages which utilize target words
- ◆ Appealing photographs that illustrate each target word
- ◆ Free downloadable supplemental audio recordings of target word lists and reading passages build listening and aid in pronunciation
